

MARCH 2021

SMARAGD

From the Latin for emerald – the birthstone for March – smargd is a bright, jewel-like green – an outlandish name for a fantastic shade. Adding to its weirdness: It's the only noun in English that ends in "gd"! But whether it reminds you of the colour of leprechauns and shamrocks or the first few shoots of new grass, what better colour to herald the arrival of spring?
